

The American Horse Council Announces FREE Tax Seminar

Featuring Tad Davis of Davis and Harmon

November 4, 2010 at 6 p.m.

The American Horse Council will be hosting a FREE Tax Seminar on Thursday, November 4, 2010 at the Tri County Feeds in Marshall, VA. Don't miss this opportunity to gain valuable information on how federal tax laws affect your equine business! This is a unique opportunity for any AHC member or non-member to learn about the tax laws that affect members of the equestrian community.

Mr. Davis will discuss recent changes to the federal tax code affecting horse owners and others in the industry, including the recently-extended Section 179 expense deduction, "bonus" depreciation, the changes in the depreciation of race horses and other new tax provisions. Mr. Davis will also review "hobby loss" issues, deductible breeding, racing and showing expenses, the passive loss rules, depreciation and sales of horses. The seminar will start at 6 p.m. and there will be time for questions and answers with Mr. Davis afterward.

The AHC will be releasing the new, updated version of Mr. Davis's Horse Owners and Breeders Tax Handbook after the tax workshop and attendees will be eligible to purchase the Handbook at a reduced rate.

Don't miss this opportunity to hear Mr. Davis, the nationally-known author of the most comprehensive, up-to-date book on how federal taxes apply to your horse business.

Please RSVP to Bridget Harrison by email bharrison@horsecouncil.org or by phone at 202-296-4031.
